授業の目的	EIC Business Presentations I is an introduction to developing skills in business communication. Students will use a text-book, CD, DVD and online resources to help them achieve the skills to write and present confidently in English.
到達目標	In this course, students will focus on both the written preparation and planning stages of presenting, in addition to the performance skills necessary to be a successful presenter. Through a variety of tasks and activities, students will learn and practice the key parts of a presentation. In addition, we will cover the key words, phrases and expressions needed to present fluently in English. We will also learn some of the special language patterns that skillful presenters use to create extra impact. Students will have many opportunities to put into practice the performance strategies we study, after watching recordings of these strategies being used by leading presentation experts.
授業外学修内容・ 授業外学修時間数	Students will benefit from familiarising themselves with the materials for the next session before coming to class. Particularly, checking vocabulary and expressions would be beneficial (30 minutes). Similarly, reviewing class materials for points learned in class and making clear review notes would consolidate learning. (30 minutes). Students must spend more than 60hours outside of class.
